NEW DIGITAL CAMPUS

Qantm College, a provider of games, animation and digital media education, has a new Melbourne campus. Chief executive Jochen Mueller says the opening coincided with the launch of two degree programs — Bachelor of Applied Multimedia and Bachelor of Interactive Entertainment. “Our new degree programs to commence in September will enable qualified students to pursue careers in games development, animation, interactive media development and graphic design. Students have access to leading industry lecturers and state-of-the-art (technology) — with a focus on practical learning time.”

The college runs courses, diplomas and degrees for new industries. Subjects include principles of 3D animation, narrative and character development and digital marketing. Details: 1300 136 933 or www.qantm.com.
